Whose Say-so is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennet Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, dries up disagreeable and weakening drains, sometimes known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidingly takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only; in cloth binding 31 stamps.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Ghosts in Charlottesville.

The Charlottesville correspondent of the Richmond Journal says: About a month ago a family of wealthy southerners came to Charlottesville and took a comfortable residence near the city, with a view to three months of pleasant and leisurely sojourn. One day last week they paid the three months' rent in full and departed.

There is in this hasty abandonment of leisurely country life a story of more or less mystery—perhaps not enought of incident, mystery or gloom to form the basis of another story of "The Fall of the House of Usher."

The house near Charlottesville, unlike that of the artist in Poe's sombre story, is situated on an eminence, is minus the tarn or lake which was an effective property in the romance, and indeed all its surroundings would suggest life in the open, under clear skies.

And it was pleasant enough in the daytime, although very much to the contrary at night. Then there were mysterious footsteps in vacant chambers and in places where no feet had a right to be. When the atmosphere was without movement and the leaves did not so much as quiver in the still night the doors slammed violently and window blinds were opened or shut with great force and noise.

The temporary master of the manor, finding for himself no explanation of these mysterious manifestations, invited a lawyer friend to spend the evening with a view to investigation. They fastened the windows and locked the doors in all the rooms not immediately under their observation and sat down to a game of whist, which, for good reason, was played with less than the customary skill. Nor was the game allowed to move to its natural close. Feet passed along the hallway upstairs, and the chambers although vacant when the doors were locked, seemed tenanted by persons restlessly moving about. Doors were noisily opened and shut.

The whist party broke up and without formal motion its members adjourned to the halls and rooms above to investigate the mystery. The doors that had been locked were found unlocked, and that was about all that was found. The restless tenants could not be discovered, nor could any evidence of their temporary occupancy other than the open and unbolted doors, be found. The lawyer came away as much mystified as the family. The owners, as far as can be heard, offer no explanation and the mystery continues in full force and attended still by all the circumstances above named.

Says He Squeezed Her Hand.

In the Richmond Police Court yesterday morning Miss Irene Gullet appeared as a witness against C. G. Carter, who is employed in a Broad street shoe store, and whom she charged with having offered her an affront, saying that while she was trying to get a thin slipper on her foot Wednesday afternoon at the store Carter patted her on the hand. Miss Gullet said she at once left the place and notified her father, who appeared at the store soon afterwards to complain to the proprietor. Mr. Gullet when placed on the stand to testify, declared that he would kill any man who insulted his daughter. Carter denied the charge of Miss Gullet, and another clerk, who said he was an eyewitness, testified in Carter's favor. Justice Crutchfield finally decided that the evidence was not sufficient and dismissed the case. The episode calls vividly to the minds of many citizens similar case years ago, when young Curtis, clerk in a fashionable shoe store in Richmond, was reported by a society girl as having squeezed her foot. He was killed by young Poindexter, her fiance, who was cleared in court and who married the young lady and moved to Texas.

Offered Postoffice for Sale.

Another phase of the opposition to the return of Representative H. A. Cooper to Congress from the Jamesville, Wis., district, has developed in Walworth county, where circulars setting forth startling charges regarding the disposal of the Lake Geneva postoffice were put in circulation, including sworn statements that the office was offered for sale to one R. D. Short for $50 a month, the money to be paid to Fred Kull, Congressman Cooper's campaign manager for the county. The affidavit, made by R. D. Short, an aspirant for the post office, states that Fred Kull, a prominent supporter of Representative Cooper, went to Short and told him he could have the office if he paid him (Kull) $50 a month during his tenure of office. Representative Cooper's relation in the matter appears to be in that he was notified of the action of Mr. Kull, and in the face of it secured the appointment of the present postmaster upon Kull's recommendation and without any indorsement by business men, who did not know the successful aspirant was a candidate until his appointment was made public. Mr. Kull is still acting as Cooper's campaign manager.

PAINS

AMERICAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

The Case of Miss Irene Crosby Is One of Thousands of Cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that it is not the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely.

Miss Irene Crosby.

Thousands of American women, however, have found relief from all monthly suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and robs these periods of their terrors.

Miss Irene Crosby, of 313 Charlton Street, East Savannah, Ga., writes:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a true friend to woman. It has been of great benefit to me, curing me of irregular and painful periods when everything else had failed, and I gladly recommend it to other suffering women."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising women free of charge. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

Ended in a Fizzle.

After spending nearly a month in the investigating of the alleged ice trust, the August grand jury made its final report yesterday to Judge Rossisky, in New York, declaring it had not found acts of a criminal nature on the part of the ice trust members, and was discharged. The widely heralded ice trust investigation thus petered out like the fizzle of damp fire in the woods. Judge Rosalsky, who, at the beginning of the term, instructed the grand jurors to investigate the ice trust, questioned the jury, specifically, to know whether no indictments against the trust had been reached. The reply of the jury was given in a presentment offered by the foreman. It was a simple statement, to the effect that the grand jury had made a thorough investigation of the subject, but had been unable to find, in the mass of testimony heard, evidence warranting further action on its part.

Entire WHEAT FLOUR and GRAHAM FLOUR just received by J. C. MILBURN.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, AUG. 31, 1900.

TWENTY THOUSAND persons cheered Mr. William J. Bryan for eight minutes in Madison Square, New York, last night. The ovation was one of the most enthusiastic ever tendered a public man in the United States. A sea of heads extended over three squares. The earnest manner in which the great commoner was welcomed back to his own country will form an interesting chapter in the history of the nation. It was no spontaneous exhibition of intemperate zeal, the reception having been in preparation for weeks, and when the man whom the people delighted to honor landed everything was found to be in readiness. While Mr. Bryan's speech was, in the main, upon lines heretofore followed by him in his public utterances, he repeated many things which have for years appealed to the common sense of the American people, although a majority of them have swerved from the traditions of the fathers of the republic. They have, however, not strayed too far to find their way back, and Mr. Bryan's lucid resume of true democracy and the bulwarks upon which the country was originally founded illumined the road leading to a sane republican government. There has been a wonderful transition in the political economy of the United States during the past decade, and there is every evidence that many of the champions of both political parties, while they have not exactly lost their heads, are suffering from topheaviness by reason of new acquisitions, the accumulation of wealth and the wave of prosperity which settled over the country after years of commercial depression. The nation is still in that zone, although there are straws which show that a change in wind is likely to occur at any time, and before the gale freshens things should, in nautical parlance, be made snug, and reefs taken. While many may not adopt all Mr. Bryan said last night, most of his utterances were on lines which the great majority of democrats will affirm, and he said many things which should appeal to the sober sense of members of all political organizations who have the country's interest at hearts. His speech was much more conservative than his enemies would have had it and barring his advocacy of government ownership, for which this country, especially the southern section, is not yet prepared, may be considered as a safe and sane declaration of democratic principles. Regarding government ownership Mr. Bryan concedes that the time is far distant when there will be federal ownership of railroads and he emphasized his conservatism by saying: "Believing, however, that the operation of all the railroads by the federal government would result in a centralization which would all but obliterate State lines, I prefer to see only the trunk lines operated by the federal government, and the local lines by the several State governments."

NOW that the months with the "r's" are at hand, there is no little speculation as to what the oyster season will bring forth. Every year there are great promises held out as to what the winter's crop and its quality will be. The same old story is written, every year in the last week in August, but the predictions are seldom verified. The oyster tonging season on the Potomac will open at midnight tonight, and the Maryland and Virginia authorities have determined to put a stop, if possible, to the violations of the oyster laws, and the vessels of the Maryland and Virginia oyster police force will be kept cruising constantly on the lookout for offenders. The oyster beds, it is said, will be better protected than ever before.

THE SUN rose clear and bright this morning, and for the first time in many days filled the hearts of the people with the hope that the rainy season, which has continued for fully three months, has come to an end, and awakened new interest in life. A fine breeze with a temperature of 82 degrees helped to dispel the intense humidity that has prevailed for so long a time, and everybody seems happy at the pleasant change in the weather conditions.

THE RETURN tide has set in and many of the summer "exodusters" are coming back to homes much more comfortable than the houses they occupied during their "outing"—but fashion or custom required a summer spent out of town. Their stay in many instances depended upon the length of their purses, though some, made miserable by the inconvenience of summer boarding houses, threw up the sponge and came back soon.

AMONG THE truisms uttered by Mr. Bryan in his speech in New York last night was this:

"The democratic party is not the enemy of property or of property rights; it is, on the contrary, the best defender of both, because it defends human rights."

And all sane people know this to be so except those who do not want to believe it.

IN HIS speech in New York last night Mr. Bryan said: "No party can exterminate the trusts so long as it owes its political successes to campaign contributions secured from the trusts." But for the trusts the republican party would have been out of business years ago.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Aug. 31

A report here is that John Sharp Williams, minority leader of the House, and William Jennings Bryan, the peerless leader, are no longer political alies. The subject dates back to their meeting in London where both were in attendance on the Inter-parliamentary Union. Mr. Williams so the story runs, discussed the political situation with Mr. Bryan. They were able to agree on practically all questions save that of government ownership of railroads. The Mississippi statesman warned the Nebraskan against pushing that subject so far into the foreground as to make it an issue. Bryan is said to have turned him down with such emphasis as to seriously offend the sensitive southerner. That is why Williams, instead of waiting one day in New York to help welcome Bryan, having himself arrived only the day before, hurried away for Yazoo City, Miss., passing through Washington yesterday. That is why, it is said, in all interviews so readily granted by him, he carefully avoids reference to the subject of government ownership of railroads.

In exactly the same manner in which Banker Hipple, of Philadelphia, committed suicide, Dr. James D. Wilson, aged 48, a practicing physician of this city, made away with himself this morning. As in Hipple's case, there was no exterior mark to indicate that the doctor had shot himself, the bullet having entered the mouth and embedded itself in the skull. The body was found this morning sitting upright in a chair near a window in the doctor's room. Ill health is supposed to have been the motive for the deed.

The Department of Justice today received a telegram dated Valdez, Albaten, August 30, to the effect that six Japanese were convicted on the 29th of attempting to kill four seals on St. Paul's Island; five others pleaded guilty of killing seals at the same place. The remaining prisoners were tried and his case is now before the jury. The Japanese were members of the poaching party that was recently driven off the island by agents of the Department of Commerce and Labor. Five of the party were killed at the time and 12 captured.

The right of boycott as a peaceable weapon for organized labor was upheld today by Justice Stafford, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. In the case of John Bender, a local baker, who sought to enjoin local union No. 118, of the Bakers' and Confectioners' International Union, from using the boycott against him because he had attempted to maintain an "open shop," the court held that the members of a union "may use the boycott in the absence of intimidation and threats, may refuse to deal with persons employing non-union labor, and may endeavor to keep sympathizers from dealing with persons on the 'unfair list.'" As it was admitted by the plaintiff that there had been no threats or intimidation employed, the court dismissed the case against the union.

The papers in the case of Lieut. E. H. Dunn, who was accused of taking women adoard the Independence at Mare Island while he was in temporary charge of the ship, getting them intoxicated and creating a disturbance have been forwarded to the President for review. This seems, in all probability, that Lieutenant Dunn will be discharged from the service.

Another American owned plantation in Cuba has been raided by revolutionists. This time it is the Mercedes estate. The raid apparently took place at the same time as that on the Constancia plantation and some horses were carried off. Mr. Sleeper, the U. S. charge at Havana, in responding to the instructions sent to him yesterday telling him to make the necessary representations to the Cuban government to secure protection for these estates, today cabled the Department that he had already done so.

Seventeen bids for a large quantity of the old French machinery, etc., on the isthmus of Panama which is little better than junk, but which was bought as part of the bargain when this country purchased the property of the New Panama Canal Company for $4,000,000, were opened today. The Canal Commission is well satisfied with the price obtained. The material is to be removed from the isthmus within thirty days after the award of the contract.

Hawaii was the banner colony during the last fiscal year as far as trade with the mainland was concerned. Her trade with the United States exceeded that of any other possession. Even at that the exports to this country decreased on account of the raw sugar shipment falling off. Porto Rico is a close second, while Alaska comes third and the Philippines next.

Hipple an Embezzler.

Examination of the list of securities held by the defunct Real Estate Trust Company in Philadelphia yesterday developed the fact that Frank K. Hipple, president of the institution, who committee suicide, was an embezzler.

The authority for this statement is George H. Earle, jr., receiver for the trust company. Mr. Earle declined to say that Hipple had hypothecated $65,000 worth of the paper, securing $50,000 for the securities, which he never returned.

Receiver Earle further declared that President Hipple embezzled the $5,000,000 he loaned Adolf Segal, he promoter. These loans, Mr. Earle asserted, were personal transactions. "Although made in the name of the bank, the directors had no knowledge of them, consequently the money was stolen by Hipple," said Mr. Earle.

Mr. Clarence P. King, a wealthy electric railway builder and president of the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railway who lost $81,000 though Mr. Hipple says 'I have,' $81,000 in this bank and I would rather lost every cent of it than have one stain placed upon the memory of that splendid man, Hipple.

Murderer Indicted.

Herkimer, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Chester Gillett, of Cortlandt, was indicted for murder in the first degree today by a special grand jury, charged with murdering Grace Brown at Big Moose Lake, in the Adirondacks. Gillett, it is alleged, lured pretty Grace Brown to the Adirondacks, and threw her into the lake from a rowboat. Governor Higgins called the special grand jury to investigate the case.

News of the Day.

John Sharp Williams, democratic leader in the House, has just returned from a six weeks' trip in England.

John Sparks, governor of Nevada, was yesterday renominated by acclamation by the joint democratic and silver party State convention.

Call money advanced to 8 per cent yesterday afternoon, the highest rate since July 3, and higher than any rate reached in August since 1896.

Delegates are arriving in Rome to attend the Jesuit convention to elect a general of the society. The Jesuits throughout the world number 15,000.

The report that coal prices were to soar like those of ice was denied by members of the Philadelphia Coal Exchange yesterday. Officers of the exchange said that the $7 coal agitation was founded upon a myth.

The feature of yesterday's session in St. Paul, Minn., of the American Bar Association was the annual address of Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, who made an attack on the growing demand for new legislation to meet the "hysterical clamor" of the day. He assailed the flood of new legislation sprung by the work of the muckrakers and declared that the enforcement of laws now on the book will correct the evils of the day. His plea was for fixed principles.

The boiler in the canning factory of Noah Webster, at Secretary, Md., exploded with terrific force at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and a number of employes were badly scalded and otherwise injured. The boiler was of the old upright class and had been giving trouble since Tuesday. When the explosion occurred, the boiler went straight up through the roof and came down 75 yards away, falling on a kitchen and demolishing it. Those in position to know declare that the water had been allowed to get low in the boiler, resulting in the explosion.

At Madison Square Garden in New York last night during Mr. Bryan's speech the arena boxes were filled with many prominent politicans and their families. Probably the box at which the crowd gazed the longest was that in which Senators Daniel and Martin, of Virginia, were seated. With them were Lieutenant John W. Daniel, Governor Claude Swanson of Virginia, Congressman Henry D. Flood, Edward Sefton, Norman E. Mack, Mrs. Mack, John W. Tomlinson, of Alabama; Mrs. Tomlinson, Mrs. Edward N. Pretorius, Mrs. Guy P. Dillon and Mrs. B. B. Garland.

Virginia News.

Rev. Wm. Cosby Bell, of Quancock, has accepted the call to become rector of R. E. Lee Memorial Episcopal Church, Lexington, to succeed Rev. Dr. B. J. McBryde.

Robert Hunter Cochran, son of George W. Cochran, of Winchester, died Wednesday night at the hospital there, after a lingering illness of typhoid fever, aged twenty-six years.

Mrs. N. F. Doggett, widow of George F. Doggett, died yesterday at the home of Mrs. F. P. Banks, near Leeland, Stafford county, of congestion of the lungs, aged 70 years.

General Thomas L. Rosser, Charlottesville's postmaster, is quite sick at his home near the University. According to rumor he has had three congestive chills within the last few days and his friends are uneasy about his condition.

The big seven-masted schooner Thomas W. Lawson, now being converted into an oil carrier at the Newport News shipyard, will sail from that port for Port Arthur, Tex., about the middle of next week. The work of fitting the schooner out with oil tanks is practically completed.

John H. St. Clair, a brother of State Senator P. F. St. Clair, was killed near Pearisburg, Giles county, late Tuesday afternoon. His assailant was Superintentendent Palmer, of the lumber works. Palmer struck St. Clair on the head with a stone, and death resulted from the blow in a few hours. The merits of the quarrel which led to the tragedy are not known.

Miss Mary Philbrook, first woman lawyer to practice law in Virginia, won her case in Norfolk yesterday in the United States Court. Miss Philbrook represented Alfred A. Bakley, of Newark, N. J., a lad who had fraudulently enlisted in the navy, it was claimed, and whose parents sought to obtain his release on the ground that the boy was under age. Pending appeal the lad will have to remain on a receiving ship.

A meeting between Governor Warfield, of Maryland, and Governor Swanson, of Virginia, occurred in New York yesterday. The two executives accidentally met at the Victoria Hotel, where they exchanged greetings. Governor Swanson declared that he and the people of Virginia are looking forward with pleasure to the visit of Governor Warfield and the Maryland commission to Jamestown next month. Governor Warfield responded, expressing his appreciation of the importance of the Jamestown Exposition and his determination that Maryland shall play a worthy part in it.

Fatal Affray.

A quarrel which started in front of the postoffice at Petersville, Frederick county, Md., about 8.30 o'clock yesterday morning, resulted in the fatal shooting of John Fridinger, aged about 21 years, by Rober; Simons, aged about 26. Fridinger accosted Simons at the post office door and asked him a question in an angry manner. Simons replied, and after a few words had been exchanged Fridinger pulled out a blackjack and struck at Simons, but missed him. Simons started to run away and Fridinger, following him, continued to strike at him with the blackjack, hitting him once on the head and once on the wrist. After running a short distance Simons turned and, drawing a pistol, shot at him. The bullet struck Fridinger in the back of his head, making a hole from which the brains oozed as he lay upon the ground. Simons made no effort to escape, and soon after the shooting surrendered to a constable. He will claim that he shot Fridinger in self-defense.

In these days of rush and hurry courtesy is often forgotten. In the mad, pell mell rush of our little life things are done to offend that we rather remained undone. A hastily eaten meal and its resultant headache may cause us social or financial loss. The wise man or woman is the one who relieves little ills of this sort by a little dose of Kodal For Dyspepsia. MR. BRYAN.

Such a welcome as seldom in this country's history has been accorded to a private citizen was given to William J. Bryan at Madison Square Garden, New York, last night in the celebration of his return from a year's absence spent in foreign travel.

The throngs outside the garden were three squares deep.

The crowds at Bryan's hotel swept him off his feet and forced him to make two speeches.

The Nebraskan drove along Broadway through sidewalks jammed with shouting people.

A chorus of steamwhistles followed him across the waters of New York harbor.

Mounted police had to escort the candidate from his hotel to the garden.

As the guest of the Commercial Travelers' Anti-trust League, Mr. Bryan was greeted by more than 20,000 persons, who filled the great structure from floor to upper galleries. At the same time the streets outside the garden were chocked for blocks by other thousands, who stood patiently for hours for the privilege of even a fleeting glance at the distinguished visitor. The interior of the garden was a waving sea of color. When Chairman Tom L. Johnson, in his introduction of Mr. Bryan, referred to the guest of the evening as "the first citizen, if not yet the first official, of the land," and Mr. Bryan rose, the great gathering broke out in unrestrained cheering, while the band played "Hail to the Chief." Having become master of himself, while the cheering was going on, he gradually waved the people into their seats and then began to speak.

"How can I thank you for this welcome home?" he said.

"My heart would be ungrateful if it did not consecrate itself to your service. It was kind to prepare this reception. It was kind of Governor Folk to come here all the way from Missouri. It was kind of Tom Johnson, that example of the moral courage we so much need in this country, to lend his presence here.

"It was kind in you to fully recompense me in being absent so long from my native land. I thank you. I return to the land of my birth more proud of my citizenship than ever before."

The characterizations of Mr. Bryan, as the speakers endeavored to find some new appelation, interested the audience much. Governor Folk, of Missouri, called him "The great torchbearer of righteousness." Augustus Thomas referred to him as another Lycugus and as a "Roman conqueror leading his iron legion through the Appain Way;" Tom Johnson said he was "Not yet the first official citizen of the land, but that he was two years in advance of his election"—the rest of his remarks along that line being overwhelmed with laughter and then with cheers.

In his statement Mr. Bryan declared his belief that the railroad question would never be finally solved until the government owns the railroads. To avoid the danger of concentrating such immense power at Washington he proposed that the federal government own the trunk lines that transport interstate commerce and the States own the local lines within their borders.

Mr. Bryan declared for revision of the tariff, so that all monopolized articles may be put on the free list; he declared himself in favor of an eight hour law and the creation of a commission to arbitrate disputes between labor and capital. The most conservative countries in Europe, he declared, collected a tax on incomes, and he had been further confirmed in his belief in an income tax. He favored a constitutional amendment providing for that system of taxation.

Declaring that no real and thorough reform could be brought about until the Senators represented the people, and not corporate or private interests, he declared himself strongly in favor of the election of Senators by direct vote of the people.

Concerning the money question he said:

"Unexpected conditions have removed the cause of our difficulties and permitted us to present a united front on present issues. The unlooked for and unprecedented increase in the production of gold has brought a victory to both the advocates of gold and the advocates of bimetallism—the former keeping the gold standard which they wanted and the latter securing the largest volume of money for which they contended. We who favor bimetallism are satisfied with our victory if the friends of monometallism are satisfied with theirs, and we can invite them to a contest of zeal and endurance in the effort to restore to the people the rights which have gradually been taken from them by the trusts."

Congratulated President Roosevelt upon measures he has taken to enforce laws relating to corporations, even though he followed the democratic rather than the republican platform in every advance he has made. He scored the republican party for failure of law to prohibit campaign contributions by corporations. He said a reduction of the tariff is an easy means of limiting extortion practiced by trusts. The high tariff he regarded as a form of legalized larceny and said the guilty ones should be in jail or the criminal clause replaced. For a generation he said the 'fat has been fried" by republicans and the manufacturers reimbursed by legislation. The railway rate bill distorted as it is, he thinks a step in the right direction.

The following were the leading points in his speech:

The paramount issue in the minds of a large majority of the people is the trust issue. The trust must go.

Landlordism—the curse of Europe—is an innocent institution in comparison with the trust.

The trust, instead of being a natural development, is a form of legalized larceny and can exist only so long as the law permits it to exist.

The reduction of the tariff furnishes an easy means of limiting the extortion which the trusts can practice. Tariff for revenue only is necessary, particularly in view of its influence in eliminating the trusts.

No party can exterminate the trusts so long as it owes its political successes to campaign contributions secured from the trusts.

We should lose no time in announcing our purpose to deal with the Filipinos as we dealt with the Cubans. No more colonialism.

We may advance our commercial interests by announcing as a national policy that our navy will not be used for the collection of private debts.

I am so convinced of the justice of the income tax that I feel sure that the people will sooner or later demand an amendment to the Constitution which will specifically authorize such a tax.

Society is justified in demanding that the differences between capital and labor shall be settled by peaceful means. No collection of private debts by the use of the navy. One of the tests of civilization is man's willingness to submit his controversies to the arbitrament of reason rather than of force.

We who favor bimetallism are satisfied with our victory if the friends of monometallism are satisfied with theirs.

The United States Senate has been for some years the bulwark of predatory wealth.

MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH.

New York, Aug. 31.—With his declaration in his Madison Square Garden speech last night, in favor of the government ownership of railroads, William Jennings Bryan threw a bombshell into the camp of the "conservative" wing of the democratic party. Among those who had been accustomed to consider themselves the elect in shaping the party's policy, it is quietly admitted today that they were far from pleased with Mr. Bryan's bold utterances on the subject.

It is known, too, that every effort of the "conservatives" was exhausted in an endeavor to persuade Mr. Bryan to omit the subject from the speech, which he had prepared in advance. All day yesterday at Lewis Nixon's house party leading lights of his party worked with Mr. Bryan, according to a story told, to induce him to cut out what they regarded as a dangerous subject on which to commit the party.

Mr. Bryan's refusal was firm and characteristic. He is said to have told his self-appointed advisors that he did not pretend to speak for his party, or to bind it to any course, but felt that he owed it to himself to declare his personal views and he could not see his way to omit what he considered one of the important points of the speech.

Next to his declaration in favor of government ownership Mr. Bryan's utterances in regard to socialism attracted probably the most attention. His statement that the best way to overcome socialism is by eradicating abuses which have grown up under individualism, but which are not necessary under individualism induced prolonged cheering.

Mayor Johnson, of Cleveland, and Governor Joseph Folk, of Missouri were both cheered to the echo. Their brief addresses roused the house to a high pitch of enthusiasm, and paved the way to the great ovation given Mr. Bryan when he rose to speak.

William Randolph Hearst also was given a minor ovation when he entered. Mr. Hearst's seat was in a box directly across the hall from the speaker's stand, so that he was behind most of the crowd and was seen by comparatively few.

Mr. Bryan's return to New York had all the appearance of a triumphal entry of a military hero. Never in the history of the city has such a reception been given to any individual in private life on returning from a trip abroad. The long march from the Battery up Broadway to the Victoria Hotel, was a continuous ovation. His welcome when he reached the hotel was a tremendous ovation. Capping the climax, was the monster demonstration last night in the Garden.

Notwithstanding his strenuous day yesterday Mr. Bryan was up early this morning. He breakfasted in his apartments with his family, and was down for a brief visit to the lobby of the Victoria shortly after 8 o'clock. He declared he had never felt better in his life.

Mr. Bryan expects to leave New York some time Sunday evening and there will be no stop until he reaches Detroit, where a meeting will be held.

"I am going with the Nebraska boys," Mr. Bryan explained, "because they say they want to be with me every minute until I get back to Nebraska."

At 9:30 Mr. Bryan left the hotel to start on his trip to Connecticut. A delegation of prominent democrats from that State were on hand to take charge of him. The party entered carriages and were driven to the Grand Central station where they embarked on the train for New Haven.

A large crowd had assembled in front of the Victoria Hotel to catch a glimpse of the distinguished visitor in whose honor such a reception had been arranged. As Mr. Bryan's carriage drove away from the hotel it was followed by the cheers of the crowd.

Accompanying Mr. Bryan on his trip today were Norman Mack, democratic national committeeman from New York; Lewis Nixon, of this city; George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts; former Mayor Quincy, of Boston; Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston; Col. A. C. Drinkwater, and John J. Walsh, of Norwalk, together with several of the Nebraska "Home Folks."

At New Haven dinner will be served in the Music Hall, and arrangements have been made for 600 persons to attend. An open air meeting will be held on the village green. Charles Gay will call the meet to order and Congressman Lents and George F. Williams will be he speakers preceding Mr. Bryan.

New York, Aug. 31.—Mr. Bryan's final preparations for departure were interrupted today by an incident which was not on the programme, but which added a picturesque touch to his hurried leave taking.

A delegation of high cast Hindoos, native East Indians, headed by Mohammed Barakatullah from Bhohal, India, called upon the Nebraskan, and presented him a memorial thanking him in long and flowery words at great length, for presenting to the world in recent articles the problem of the Hindoos under the iron rule of the British in India. He thanked the Hindoos and promised that he would read the memorial carefully when he had more time.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 31.—Bryan Day in New Haven opened with bright sunshine and moderate temperature, conducive to the comfort of the large crowds expected from all parts of the State and New England. The city was on tip-toe from early morning and crowds who arrived by train and trolley were busy selecting proper vantage places where they could get a suitable glimpse of the peerless leader when he arrived.

The welcome to the citizen Bryan is to be followed by a political pow wow to to which only democrats are to be allowed.

New Haven, Conn. Aug. 31.—With a one-minute speech, at Stamford and short stops at Norwalk, and Bridgeport, where he shook hands with those who gathered about the rear of his car, Mr. Bryan swung through southwest Connecticut to New Haven, where New England welcomed the great commoner.

Mr. Bryan arrived in New Haven shortly after twelve o'clock.

A band and the waiting delegations with Mayor Studley and Lieutenant Governor Woodruff met him.

Mr. Bryan learned at Bridgeport of the sudden death of Edward Rosewater, editor of the Omaha Bee, at Omaha, last night. When shown the Publishers Press dispatch giving the news of Mr. Rosewater's death, Mr. Bryan became greatly affected. He said: "This is a great shock to me and I feel that I have sustained a great personal loss."

Mr. Bryan then sent a telegram conveying his sympathy to Mrs. Rosewater. The train made a brief stop at Stamford and a score or more of people gathered around the platform of Mr. Bryan's car.

There was a lusty cheer from the small crowd when the Nebraskan stepped out on the platform and several cries for a speech were heard.

Mr. Bryan said: "I have only a moment, and that is not long enough to enter into any discussion of the issues of the day. I will have to come and see you again."

About two hundred men and women greeted Mr. Bryan when the train reached South Norwalk. The stop was less than a minute, and the Nebraskan made no speech, contenting the crowd with handshaking. A crowd of 300 persons gathered to meet the Bryan train at Bridgeport.

Threatened Famine in Western Ireland.

Donegal, Aug. 31.—Partial famine threatens the western part of Ireland through the failure of the crops. Ten per cent. of the potato crop is practically worthless and ten per cent. more is diseased. The present damage to other crops is slightly lower. The farmers will be unable to raise this season more than enough to keep their families supplied and there will be no surplus for the markets or next year's seeding, consequently the plight of the poor laborers is much worse. Many of them, unable to find employment, are already verging on starvation.

At a special meeting of the Sligo County Council, John O'Dowd, member of parliament, introduced a resolution calling upon the government to open relief works, as the situation was blacker than at any time since 1879. The council unanimously passed the resolution. Other local councils are contemplating similar action. H. A. Law, member of parliament for West Donegal, in an interview with the correspondent of the Publishers Press, today, said:

"Crops everywhere west have been affected by the continuous wet weather, especially the bog land potatoes and mountain hay. I do not think a general famine at present is to be feared, but poor families undoubtedly will suffer severely."

Severe Punishment for Agitators.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—Severe punishment for revolutionary agitators are announced today in dispatches from Finland, and the promulgation of a sentence upon a St. Petersburg editor.

The court martial of the Sveaborg mutineers which was completed at Helsingfors, Finland, today, sentenced nineteen soldiers and three civilians who took part in the uprising there to death. Thirty-three soldiers are sentenced to from twelve to fifteen years' imprisonment, thirty-three others to five years' imprisonment, and 299 soldiers to four months' imprisonment. In all 687 persons were brought to trial for participating in the mutiny. Only thirty of these were discharged. In addition to the other sentences stated, 195 soldiers will be compelled to do penal military service, while another group of 85 persons, both civilians and soldiers, will be kept under military arrest for twenty days.

M. Vodovoseff, former editor of the Nassain, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment for engaging in revolution and printing false news in regard to the government in his paper.

London, Aug. 31.—The sentence of death pronounced upon the Sveaborg fortress mutineers was executed today, according to a dispatch to the Central News, from Helsingfors, Finland. The message states that nineteen soldiers and three civilians who participated in the uprising there, were hanged.

Failed to Swim to French Coast.

Dover, Eng., Aug. 31.—Although he covered more than forty-two miles, several miles more than the distance from Dover to the French coast, T. W. Burgess, the long distance championship swimmer, failed in the effort he made yesterday to swim the English channel. His performance is one of the most remarkable swimming records. Shifting tides prevented Burgess from reaching his goal. He was buffeted about and swept far out of his course at times but stuck gamely to his task until he was seized with cramps after being in the water for eighteen hours. At the time he was forced to surrender Burgess seemed certain of success. He was within four miles of the French coast and the balance of his journey would have been easy if cramps had not attacked him. During his long swim, Burgess crossed the Goodwin Sands, a feat which no other swimmer has ever accomplished. A great part of the time he had to swim through a dense fog. This makes the seventh time Burgess has attempted to swim the channel, and he has met defeat every time.

Sensation in Erie.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 31.—The sensational abduction of Lloyd Reed, Jr., the 17 years-old son of Lloyd G. Reed, an Erie millionaire, has caused much excitement. A hurried trip from New York by Catherine Reed, the mother, a mad chase to the railroad station, with the angry husband in not pursuit to prevent the escape tells the story of the affair. Since the disintegration of the vast Reed estate and the separation of husband and wife, Mrs. Reed has lived in New York with her two children, Katherine Harriett and Aaron Manning Reed. Lloyd Jr., remained with his father. He tired of the society of his father longed to be with his mother, and the escaped followed. Reeds says he will follow his wife and son to New York to get the child.

Rescue of a Merchant.

A prominent merchant of Sharon, N. Y., J. A. Johnson, says: "Several years ago I contracted a cough which grew worse, until I was hardly able to move around. I coughed constantly and nothing relieved my terrible suffering until I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. Before I had taken half a bottle my cough was much better, and in a short time I was entirely cured. I surely believe it saved my life. It will always be my family remedy for colds." Fully guaranteed; 50c and $1.00 at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Trial bottle free.

Shot by Unknown Parties.

Atlanta Ga., Aug. 31.—Ten minutes after he had been declared "not guilty" by a jury, having been on trial for the murder of R. H. Dorsey, father of his 14-year-old sweetheart, Leon T. Milner, of Jonesboro 18 miles from Atlanta, was shot five time by unknown parties and was mortally wounded. L. E. Dorsey, son of the murdered man, has been arrested on suspicion, and lodged in the Alanta jail for safe keeping. The clayton county grand jury has been convened in extraordinary session to day to probe the shooting, and the greatest excitement reigns in the little town. Dorsey had forbidden Milner from seeking his daughter. Milner resorted to letter writing.

Last spring Dorsey met Milner on the street, at Jonesboro, and berated him for his undesired attentions to his little daughter. The men quarrelled and Milner shot Dorsey dead. Milner was tried yesterday and last night the jury declared him "not guilty." The sympathy of the community was with the Dorseys and trouble was feared. As the prisoner left the court house, he was taken in charge by H. W. Tanner, jailor, and Deputy Sheriff Ed. Regan. They decided to take him to the jail for the night, for safe keeping. As the trio walked through the court yard in the moonlight, three shadows were seen in the distance. A volley rang out and Milner fell to the ground shot twice. He rose and attempted to run and another volley rang out. When picked up he was found to be shot five times. A deputy grabbed one of the assailants but was beaten off. They then disappeared.

Interest Centres in Strong Box.

Philadelphia, Aug. 31.—The greatest interest today in the Real Estate Trust Company failure centres in the opening of the strong box of the President Hipple, which is in the vaults of the company. It is thought by many that the box contains the secret of what Hipple did with the money that he is known to have taken from the company. Insurance policies on the life of Hipple are supposed to be in the box. Whether these policies are of the non-contestible kind, which would prevent the insurance companies escaping the payment on the suicide plea, is not known. The executor does not know. He says that his father never discussed the matter with him. It was expected that the box would be opened this morning in the presence of Receiver Earl and F. Wharton Hipple, executor of the will, and his attorney. One attempt was made to open the box, but Receiver Earle prevented it, ordering the watchman in charge of the box not to allow anybody to have it until the receiver or his representative was present.

Conditions in Cuba.

Havana, Cuba, Aug. 31.—A crisis in the revolution is fast approaching, and it is believed that a decisive battle between the insurgents and loyal troops will be fought in the near future.

In Santa Clara province the revolution has been growing, and the fear is expressed that the important port of Cienfuegos is in danger of capture by the revolutionists.

A battle may be fought soon in Havana province as well. The insurgents, under Col. Asbert, have so far avoided anything like a general engagement, but Col. Estrames, commanding the loyalists, has recently been supplied with sufficient horses to enable him to move his forces rapidly, and he is pressing Asbert close.

The insurgents suffered one defeat yesterday near Campo Florida. After two hour's battle they were badly worsted and fled leaving many dead and wounded on the field.

The President's Visitors.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Congressman Herbert Parsons, chairman of the New York county republican committee; Prof. Brander Matthews, of spelling reform fame; Rev. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook; Rev. Silas McBee, editor of the Churchman; Francis E. Leupp, Commissioner of Indian Affairs; Leigh Hunt and Count Gleichen, the British Military attache at Washington, were guests of President Roosevelt today. The President and Mr. Parsons held an extended conference, during which the political situation in New York was discussed.

Fatal Result of a Duel.

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 31.—As the result of a duel at Spruce, W. Va., between John Davis and Fred Case, last evening, Davis died today. It is alleged the dead man made disparaging remarks about the quality of the clothing Cass wore and a quarrel ensued. Later the men met on the street and began blazing away at each other. Davis received a mortal wound. Both men lived in Covington, W. Va.

Cargo of Arms Captured.

Philadelphia, Aug. 31.—It is reported that a vessel with a load of arms and ammunition for the Cuban rebels has been captured in the Delaware bay by the federal authorities. The arms are reported to have been taken aboard at Wilmington.

Execution of a Murderer.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 31.—On the same gallows on which a negro who murdered U. S. Senator Simmonds' father was executed, there, was hanged today, at Newbern, N. C., Henry Bailey, the negro, who two months ago waylaid and killed John M. Lancaster, a prominent merchant of Vanceboro.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug 31.—The market has been feverish and unsettled all through the first hour, with room traders mixed both in the operations and market opinions, and price movements were corralled wholly by the money situation. Before eleven o'clock large amounts of loans were called. At times a distinctly bullish feeling was created by statements of heavy gold engagements in London for import to New York, but these were followed by bankers' denials. One foreign house has a direct cable that 221,000 pounds sterling have been taken from the Bank of England. Price movements were irregular with Union Pacific strong and other issues showing the result of selling pressure by the room and outside speculative interests. Arbitrage brokers said London bought about 20,000 shares here, chiefly Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Erie and Steel.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Mrs. Thomas Gilmore, mother of Chas. H. Gilmore, the well known theatrical manager, died today in Oswego, N. Y., aged 56.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section fair tonight and Saturday; light to fresh westerly winds.

The New Council.

The first meeting of the new City Council will be held at 12 o'clock tomorrow, September 1st, when the two branches will organize by the election of officers. It is expected that no other business will be transacted at tomorrow's meeting. At the election for the new Council held in June all the members of the Board of Aldermen were re-elected without opposition, but in the lower board two changes were made. Capt. Albert Bryan, who has been chairman of the committee on finance for the past five years, will be succeeded as a representative of the Fourth ward by Mr. Frank T. Evans, the latter a republican. Mr. Frank J. Pollard, who was elected to fill an unexpired term in the Third ward, will be succeeded by Mr. J. Fred Birrell. It is understood that President J. T. Sweeney of the Board of Aldermen, Vice President J. R. N. Curtin, L. H. Thompson, the clerk, and George W. Schafer, the messenger, will have no opposition for re-election to their positions. President Hubert Snowden, Vice-President L. E. Uhler, Clerk D. R. Stansbury and Messenger William Craven of the Common Council will, it is stated, not be opposed for re-election.

A Delightful Change.

The temperature yesterday was akin to that which had prevailed for several weeks—humid and uncomfortable. Toward the close of the day several heavy rains passed south of this city. A thick cloud settled in the southwest shortly before nine o'clock at night from which lightning flashed incessantly for about two hours. The wind, however, was waiting the storm away from this city and stars were twinkling in the western and northwestern heavens. The breeze freshened all the time, causing a decided fall in the temperature. To the joy of all, the sun rose this morning unclouded, and fair weather with a pleasant temperature followed.

Anniversary of Earthquake.

Twenty years ago tonight earthquake shocks were felt over a large portion of the United States. The disturbance was disastrous to Charleston, S. C., where many buildings were destroyed and others seriously damaged. Some persons lost their lives by the convulsions. The shocks were more severe than any previously felt in this country. The most alarming shock was felt for about thirty seconds in this city. No damage resulted, but the disturbance alarmed many persons. Chandeliers and pictures in houses swayed to and fro and people found themselves staggering in the streets. In some cases the shocks caused nausea.

Opera House.

For the past twenty years the unanimous verdict of the most delighted playgoers, as voiced through the press, is that the farce comedy, "Peck's Bad Boy," which comes to the Opera House on Saturday, matinee and night, outclasses in convulsing realism and tickling touches from real life anything else attempted on the stage. It is, moreover, the only theatrical version of the sketches from which it takes its title authorized by their author, ex-Governor George W. Peck, of Wisconsin, whose indorsement should be accepted as conclusive regarding its merits.

Suggestive Placards.

The protracted rainy weather has brought the facetious man to the front. After Royal street from King to Prince had been paved with vitrified brick an attempt was made to place similar paving at the entrance to the alley on that square near King street, but the excavations were filled with water almost as soon as they were made. This morning there were placards on each side of the woodwork in front of the alley. One bore the following: "Fishing in these waters strictly forbidden." The other, "Boats for Hire."

The Oyster Season

The last summer month will have closed at 12 o'clock tonight when the month of September will be ushered in. The oyster season will commence within the next few days, although, according to the tradition, the bivalves are not thought to be actually in season until the advent of low temperature and the chilling of the water. Of late years but few first-class bivalves have come to this market. The supply, however, of other grades have generally been equal to the demand.

Deaths.

Miss Courtney Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Edwards, died at the Alexandria Hospital last night of typhoid fever. The deceased was 23 years old and she was a native of Fauquier county.

Thelma, the infant daughter of Mr. Robert and Mrs. Eva M. Johnson, died at her parents' home, 313 Prince street this morning.

T. P. A. Excursion.

The first gleam of last night's moon and the sunlit skies this morning have caused the members of the Travelers' Protective Association to renew their efforts in behalf of tonight's moonlight excursion on the steamer Jamestown. It is earnestly hoped that a large number will show their appreciation of the spacious and elegant steamer by their presence on this occasion.

The Bird Season.

The bird season opens tomorrow, when the army of gunners will be materially increased. The killing of birds, however, has been carried on for several weeks by people who year after year defy the law. The senseless shooting of swallows late in the evening affords sport to some every summer.

The old side-wheel steamer Samuel J. Pentz was towed yesterday from Wagner's Point, near Baltimore, where she sunk and was floated to River View, near that city. Mr. Heath, who purchased the steamer, may continue her to Washington, as was his intention when he purchased her from the Randall Steamboat Company.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of last night:

Mary Springsteel, arrested by Officer Henderson charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

A white man, arrested by Lieutenant Smith and Officer Roberts charged with assault, forfeited $5 collateral by failing to appear.

Andrew Whiting, colored, arrested by Officers Beach and Sherwood charged with stealing watermelons in the market, was dismissed.

A butcher, arrested by Officer Henderson charged with conducting business without a license, was dismissed.

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

James Perry, arrested by Officers Jones and Bell for disorderly conduct, was fined $2.50.

A white man, arrested by Officer Bell charged with using abusive language, was dismissed. Another white man, arrested by Lieutenant Smith upon a similar charge, was fined $5.

Lee Level, arrested by Officers Beach and Lyles charged with assaulting his wife, was fined $5.

A white woman, arrested by Officer Smith charged with assault, forfeited $5 collateral by failing to appear.

Personal.

Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd, formerly of this city, missionary secretary of the Episcopal Church in America, and Mrs. Lloyd sailed from New York on Tuesday for a European voyage, tendered them by the missionary board of the Episcopal Church. Mrs Lloyd will be joined by her children next April, and will probably remain abroad longer than her husband, whose absence will extend over a year. He intends visiting all mission fields of his church, including that in India.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Elliott and Misses Mary and Lollie Harlow have returned from the Sweet Chalybeate Springs.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Furrer, mother of Mrs. Christina Bohrans, is critically ill at her residence, 111 south Columbus street.

Mr. Carl Bohrans, who has been confined to his bed for the past five weeks, is now able to get about on crutches.

Miss Bettie Keys has returned from a pleasant visit to Springvale.

Miss Lizzie Allen of Richmond is visiting Miss Annie Gorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gibson have returned from a visit to Atlantic City and other coast resorts.

Mr. R. Walton Moore, who spent several weeks in Europe, has returned to his home. His trip was a highly enjoyable and beneficial one.

Mr and Mrs. W. B. Smoot have returned from a month's visit to Atlantic City and the New England States.

Master Walter Trimyer has gone to Philadelphia to visit his aunt.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Samuel H. Lunt, auctioneer, will offer a team of farm horses for sale at the Royal street entrance to the City Hall tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The Old Dominion Baseball Club yesterday played a game with the Columbia Fire Company team. It resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 9 to 0.

A meeting of the St. Marys Church choir was held last night to make arrangements for the resumption of practice.

A colored man this morning found a coat, vest and cap in a bundle floating in the river off Fishtown. The articles of clothing belonged to a railroad conductor or brakemen and were taken to the station house. Lieut. Smith notified the officials of the railroads of the find. The clothes turned out to be the property of Conductor Dan Payne, which were stolen from a caboose last night.

We have received an invitation from the Alexandria County Board of Trade to attend a banquet to be held at Rosslyn, Tuesday evening, September 4. Prominent men of both Virginia and the District will address the meeting on subjects of local interest.

During the month the clerk of the Corporation Court recorded 34 deeds and issued 38 marriage license—30 to whites and 8 to colored persons.

The Village Chapel Sunday school will give a basket picnic at Snowden's Station, on the electric railway, on Monday next.

A beautiful luna rainbow was seen in the southeastern heavens about half-past nine o'clock last night.

During the month Police Justice Caton tried 289 cases and collected $1,022 in fines.

Killed by a Negro.

As was stated in the Gazette, Michael Custy, a well-known saloonkeeper of Bedford City, was shot and instantly killed in his place of business yesterday by Thomas Will Preston, colored. The negro went into Custy's saloon, in the Central Hotel, and bought a drink a few minutes after the place was opened for business. After swallowing the whisky Preston turned to leave. Custy asked him to settle for the drink. This enraged the negro, who rushed upon Custy, choking him and firing two shots through his heart. Custy was found dead on the floor a moment later. After the shooting Preston rushed into the street and jumped into a hack, telling the driver to whip up his horse and make for the outskirts. The teamster declined to obey the murderer's demand, whereupon Preston seized the lines and drove out of town and made his escape. News of the tragedy spread quickly and a posse went in pursuit of Preston. Later in the day the sheriff telegraphed to Suffolk for Hurricane Branch's bloodhounds. The dogs will be put on the trail as soon as they can reach Bedford. If Preston is captured, a lynching may follow. Custy was a native of Winchester.

If you want an elephant go to Bailey's Cross Roads or Clifton. For an evening of pleasure go on the Jamestown excursion tonight.

When two strong men come to blows, even if they are well matched, it is not a pleasing sight, but if the man who gets the worst of it will use DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, he will look better and feel better in short order. DAMAGE BY FLOODS.

The freshet in the Appomattox river rose about fifteen inches from Wednesday night to late yesterday afternoon, and the result has been disastrous to the lower part of Petersburg. Both River and Pike streets are flooded and can only be traveled with boats and in vehicles. The cellars of all the stores on the north side of Old street are flooded with back water from the river. The Petersburg Crystal Ice Factory, located near the wharf, was compelled to shut down yesterday on account of water in the boiler room being knee deep. The Appomattox box factory, which is on the wharf, is five feet in water, and had to stop operations. The warehouse of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, in which is stored 600 tons of kanite, valued at about $5,000, is filled with water three feet deep. Last night the river was still rising, and the water is within a few feet of the Union Depot. All of the tracks of the Atlantic Coast Line and the Norfolk and Western railroad in the vicinity of the station are covered with water, and trains have to run slowly. The whole abutment of the bridge over the Nottaway river on the Seaboard Air Line between McKenny and Warfield was washed away Wednesday night, and all trains on the road are now being run over the Atlantic Coast Line.

Washouts on the Atlantic and Danville division of the Southern Railway have seriously interferred with traffic during the last several days. Passenger train No. 1, due at Danville at 5:30 Wednesday afternoon, did not arrive until 7:30 yesterday morning. The crew and passengers were detained 14 hours at Lawrenceville while a force repaired the damage done by the rains.

Nearly all trains entering Richmond yesterday were from two to four hours late on account of washouts. Tracks generally have been much damaged, and with small landslides, small washouts and fills, soft from being soaked with rain for 60 days continuously. It is impossible to make schedules. It is remarkable, say the railroad men, that no more serious consequences have resulted and that there has been no loss of life.

A heavy rainfall, accompanied with cloudbursts, in Wilkes and Surrey counties, N. C., Tuesday and Thursday, did thousands of dollars' damage, washing away the Southern Railway bridge over Mitchells river, submerging the track for about four miles near Pilot Mountain, and destroying mills and other property.

Open Shop in Postal Service.

The principal of the "open shop" will be applied to the postal service, according to a decision reached at the department yesterday at a conference between Postmaster Fred A Busse, of Chicago, and acting Postmaster General Hitchcock and Second Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger. The visit of Postmaster Busse of Washington was brought about by the announcement recently made, of the proposed formation of a national labor union of postal clerks, in affiliation with the American Federation of Labor. The determination was reached yesterday that so long as the postal clerks or other postoffice employes conform to the rules and regulations of the office, and do not attempt to coerce or in any way molest those who do not enter the union, there will be no objection to the employes affiliating with labor organizations. It expressly was stated, however, that the department would afford the fullest protection to those who for reasons of their own do not see fit to join the union.

Italians Expelled from the Town.

The citizens of Athens, near Sayre, Pa., congregated in a mob 500 strong Wednesday night, and with clubs and stones descended on the Italian colony. They drove about two hundred foreigners out of their homes and forced them to leave town. Some of the foreigners fought and were injured by hurled stones. The trouble was the outcome of the arrest in the colony Wednesday of an Italian on suspicion of being the murderer of C. E. Messenger, watchman of the bridge works. The murder has caused an intense hatred for the foreigners, and yesterday about 100 men had been deputized by the sheriff to restore peace. After the mob drove the Italians out a cry of lynch the prisoners was heard, but some of the cooler heads avoided this.

THE TE REV. DR. FLIPPO.

August in Martinsburg, W. Va, a little group gathered around a newly made grave to pay the last token of respect to Rev. Dr. O. Flippo, a man who had become a truly great man. The funeral services were held in the home of Dr. J. B. S odgrass at four o'clock the beautiful calm of the Sabbath afternoon, a fitting home-going of one of God's noblest children.

Dr. Flippo's body was brought from the home of his daughter, Mrs Peecham, in Wilmington, Del., where he died after months of suffering but beautiful resignation, and from whence word to the writer that he was simply waiting for orders to go or stay, as the Father willed.

At the late Rev. Mr. Dunaway of the Baptist Church of Martinsburg took charge of a simple service consisting of scripture, prayer and hymns, at the close of which the Masons took Dr. Flippo's body and buried it with the beautiful service in Green Mount Cemetery, which was all in accordance with the expressed wish of the deceased.

Dr. Flippo was twice married and it is the high privilege of the writer to have married into the second family that Dr. Flippo's last marriage brought him and it is our earnest desire to show something of the high esteem and loving admiration in which he was held by his second wife's family, who was Miss Mollie Ebert.

Brother Flippo's life was a marvellous illustration of how fidelity and simple unswerving faith in God's word will beautify and broaden a character. It has frequently and truthfully said of him that he broadened and uplifted every single life with which he ever came in contact. One of his strongest characteristics was his minute attention to little things. Words would fail to tell of his beautiful fatherly loving heart; of his blindness to others faults and his glorification of their virtues; his beautiful and marvellous modesty and quiet way of doing so gracefully bright helpful things for others. But these things will be written in the hearts of the many who knew and loved him.

In all the family gatherings Dr. Flippo was always eagerly sought and needed so much by his able pen, his ready wit, or his apt word of love and sympathy. We can but leave other who did no so well know the beauty of his home life, to speak of his great popularity and success as a Baptist minister and of his wonderful usefulness in the American Baptist Publication Society.

The command "To come up higher" came to him in Wilmington, Del., Friday evening, Aug. 3, about seven p. m., and we all feel that he is on more over there and while his goings has left a great void in many lives, let us who are left to bear the brunt of battle a few years longer, learn from his life the beautiful lesson of fidelity.

The Gans-Nelson Fight.

Goldfield, Nev., Aug. 31.—An agreement on all disputed points has at last been reached between Joe Gans and Battling Nelson in regard to their coming fight on Monday, and the managers of the Goldfield Athletic Club are breathing easier. Unless Billy Nolan can think up some other condition to impose upon the Baltimore negro the fight should now go through without further breaks in negotiations. The scrappers will weigh in with their trunks and shoes, but without gloves. Now that this agreement has been definitely made both men are taking life easy and waiting for the moment when they will face each other. The great arena has been completed and was turned over to the managers today. It is massively built of the heaviest timbers. Two-inch planks are used for the bleachers. The structure cost the management $13,000. It will seat 10,000 persons.

FINANCIAL

HALF OF YOUR MONEY IS SPENT FOOLISHLY.

Why not save it! Try today—it's simple. Cultivate the habit of economy. A little money saved now works wonders later! And 3 PER CENT. INTEREST compounded makes the wonder grow. The dollars that get away from you each week or month would soon make a snug sum to your credit in a Savings Account with this corporation, so prepare for the unexpected now—don't wait until it happens. Deposit a portion of your income with us, you can draw on it in time of need. We make it a rule to give careful and immediate attention to all business—all requests have careful and prompt attention and every courtesy and accommodation that safe and conservative banking can afford is extended to all customers. We pay interest on time deposits and solicit household, personal and professional accounts as well as the banking business of commercial establishments. We act as executor, administrator and trustee. Execute fidelity, contract, official and judicial bonds, and have safe deposit boxes for rent at reasonable rates. Call to see us.

Labels Upon Meat Products.

Nothing short of the placing upon meat products of labels which will not deceive the public was the ultimatum which Secretary Wilson delivered to 40 representatives of various packing-houses who met in Washington yesterday. Hereafter, if the packers want their goods accepted for interstate shipment, they must bear labels more specific than those used in the past. It will not do, for instance, to state merely that a package contains sausage.

The label must distinctly describe the article and plainly show that the sausage is made entirely of pork, or pork and beef combined, or of other ingredients. The same rule will apply to other products. The elimination of certain advertising features on the labels also will be insisted upon.

The packers were particularly solicitous regarding the meat products already put up and held in stock, but Secretary Wilson assured them it was not his intention to open every package, but to select a certain percentage of them, and if they were found to be as represented he would authorize the issuance of labels for the entire lot, certifying that it had been inspected and had met the requirements of law.

Good for the cough, removes the cold, the cause of the cough. That's the work of Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar—the original laxative cough syrup. Contains no opiates. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Sliver Through Body—Recovers.

There was discharged from St. Elizabeth's Hospital, in Utica, N. Y., yesterday, a patient whose injury is said by physicians to have been one of the most remarkable from which a man recovered. While working in a mill at Fulton Chain, on the morning of June 14 last, a piece of wood nearly two feet long and about an inch and a half wide, was thrown from a saw with such force that it passed through George Lanz's right arm and entirely through his body, pinning the arm to his side.

It took several hours to bring Lanz to Utica city, and he was conscious till placed on the operating table for the removel of the sliver and the dressing of the wounds. Yesterday he was discharged entirely cured.

He has been visited by many surgeons from distant cities, who have examined his wounds and studied the pictures taken as he lay on the operating table. All marvelled over the man's recovery.

A Scientific Wonder.

The cures that stand to its credit make Bucklen's Arnica Salve a scientific wonder. It cured E. R. Mulford, lecturer for the Patrons of Husbandry, Waynesboro, Pa., of a distressing case of Piles. It heals the worst Burns, Sores, Boils, Ulcers, Cuts, Wounds Chilblains and Salt Rheum. Only 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.
